

The Art Beat

Stuck in a rut? Any artist can tell you that a warm, friendly environment filled with positive energy is essential to the creative process. Fortunately, that's exactly what you'll find at The Art Beat, a unique studio that offers a variety of art classes for preschoolers, youth and adults.

A family-run business, The Art Beat teaches ceramics, mixed media, drawing and sketching, and painting. Mini-classes are available for semi-private instruction and workshops covering subjects such as beading and silk painting ensure that you'll find something to feed your creative muse. The Art Beat also offers a selection of fun birthday party packages and the studio can even be rented for your special events.

No matter what your age, if your inner artist is begging to come out and play, come and discover the sense of freedom that comes from getting your hands dirty while creating something special.
